Neureuth is one of the most beautiful hiking destinations above Lake Tegernsee. The trail winds through dense mountain forests up to one of the region's most popular mountain huts. The ascent is challenging in places, but it rewards hikers with magnificent views of Lake Tegernsee and a delightful break surrounded by nature.

Safety information

- The hike follows mostly well-maintained trails, but the trail on the ascent is steeper in places and can be slippery when wet.
- Sturdy shoes with good traction are recommended.
- Check the current weather conditions before your hike. In snowy or icy conditions, certain sections may be more challenging.
- Please stay on the marked trails and be considerate of grazing animals and the natural environment.

Equipment

- Ankle-high hiking boots or sturdy outdoor shoes
- Weather-appropriate clothing
- Plenty of drinking water
- Sun protection (sunglasses, hat, sunscreen)
- Hiking poles (optional)—especially helpful for the descent
- Small backpack for snacks and personal items
- Cash for the alpine huts

Roadbook

Starting right from the hotel, the trail first follows the Tegernsee High Trail northward. Here you'll enjoy a beautiful view of the lake before continuing up the mountain. After a few minutes, you'll reach the hiking trail leading toward Neureuth.

For the ascent, we recommend the varied route along the narrower forest trail on the western side of the mountain. The path winds its way uphill through the mountain forest in numerous switchbacks, offering beautiful views of Lake Tegernsee along the way.

After about an hour, you'll reach the first overlooks along the trail. From here, the view sweeps across the entire Tegernsee Valley all the way to the peaks of the Mangfall Mountains. The trail then continues with a gentle ascent through the forest before the landscape opens up and the alpine pastures of Neureuth come into view.

After about an hour, you will reach the first viewpoints along the trail. From here, your gaze stretches across the entire Tegernsee Valley towards the peaks of the Mangfall Mountains. The trail then continues gently uphill through the forest before the landscape opens up and the alpine meadows of Neureuth come into view.

After around one and a half hours of hiking, you will reach the traditional Berggasthof Neureuth. Its spacious sun terrace is one of the most beautiful viewpoints above Lake Tegernsee and is the perfect place to take a relaxing break and enjoy Bavarian specialities.

For the return journey, we recommend the more leisurely route via the wide forest road on the eastern side. The well-maintained trail descends gently through shady forests and is particularly suitable for a comfortable descent. Once you reach the outskirts of Tegernsee, follow Neureuthstraße back to the hotel. Alternatively, you can turn right onto Kobellweg beforehand. This path leads to an idyllic viewpoint above the hotel before continuing along a forest trail back to DAS TEGERNSEE.
